About the Composer

Peter Sciaino (b.1975) is a passionate music educator, author and composer of band and orchestra music for all levels. He is currently published with Alfred Music, C.L. Barnhouse Company, C. Alan Publications, Carl Fischer Music, Excelcia Music Publishing, RWS Music Company and Wingert-Jones Publications in the United States and Hafabra Music in Europe. Additionally, Peter has had music selected to Bandworld Magazine's Top 100, J.W. Pepper's Editors' Choice and various state assessment lists.

Peter holds a BM from Syracuse University in Music Education and an MA from New York University in Music Composition. An instrumental music teacher at Whippany Park High School (NJ) for over 20 years, he directs both the concert band and jazz ensemble while co-directing the marching band and teaching AP Music Theory.

Peter writes and arranges music for marching bands, jazz ensembles, and chamber ensembles in addition to his work with symphonic groups. He also serves as a clinician and guest conductor and accepts commissions for original work.

His professional affiliations include ASCAP, NAfME, and NJMEA. Peter resides in New Jersey with his wife and two children. In his spare time, Peter listens to and collects jazz on vinyl while obsessing over small-batch, independent coffee roasters.

Modal Citizen

Herbie Hancock's album, Maiden Voyage, has always been a favorite of mine. By the time the record was released in the mid-1960's, the modal approach to improvisation and tune writing (which had only been introduced in the previous decade) had become popular. The ability to create extended melodic ideas, with greater pitch choice over longer form chord changes, provided a freedom that defined the time period. With a tip of the cap to Mr. Hancock, who has always been a "model citizen" of the jazz community (sorry, I couldn't help myself), I wanted to create a piece for younger players that, like Maiden Voyage, had a driving, yet paced, feel while utilizing the modal approach. This piece also borrows further elements related to form and melodic structure from the Hancock classic which can be used as an excellent listening activity for your band.

Performance Notes

Developing players will want to breathe after long notes in almost every case. Encourage these musicians to aim for four bar phrases at this tempo to help achieve a more mature sound. Very specific articulation is asked of the Trombones throughout. These moments often provide texture while other sections have long notes. The moving or rhythmic figures should be brought out when the melodic notes are extended or held. Sometimes the melodic lines are unison within a given section. Suggest that the unison notes be played lighter and with a unified tone.
